

Enabling the Anywhere Enterprise

Enterprise IT has a new mission.

Managing apps, data and connectivity to mobilize your entire enterprise. Make critical data and applications more accessible.

Makes sense, but there are big challenges.

Employees expect easy access to data and applications. They want it when they need it, on whatever device is nearby.

Deploying, managing and securing new enterprise applications is complex. And time-consuming.

Existing network architectures are inflexible. Making the necessary changes is difficult.

Tightly integrated solutions that incorporate three core capabilities required in the Anywhere Enterprise:

BUSINESS MOBILITY

How can you meet the needs of your distributed workforce and provide secure, remote access to corporate apps?

VMware Horizon®, AirWatch® and VMware Workspace™ ONE™ + F5 BIG-IP = the flexibility, security, performance and availability to deliver digital workspaces to individual clients - accessible from anywhere, at any time, on any device - over the network from a central location.

How can you deliver all infrastructure components — compute, storage and networking — as a service and enable private and public clouds to work seamlessly?

VMware vRealize + F5 BIG-IP = unified application management, orchestration, automation and security across private, public, and hybrid cloud environments - all at the lowest possible OpEx.

NETWORK VIRTUALIZATION

How can you increase data center agility, accelerate network service provisioning and simplify network operations?

 VMware NSX + F5 BIG-IP = deliver L2-L7 networking and security services completely in software, including firewalling, traffic management, and VPN secure access.	 Programmatic provisioning and management of network services.	 Simplified deployment, reduced time-to-market, and improved response times for applications and services — wherever they reside.
