VMware Enterprise Learning Subscription
Access to a comprehensive, digital learning library; anytime, anywhere

Customer challenges
Organizations across the globe share a common challenge: how to efficiently train IT teams with the skills they need to achieve business outcomes. This challenge is further amplified when IT teams have differing skills and time constraints, and are based in various locations. Additionally, users require access to the right content at the right level of expertise, at the right time, which can be vital to the success of your VMware solutions.

Digital learning is the future of IT training
The VMware Enterprise Learning Subscription™ (ELS) is a comprehensive digital learning solution from VMware Customer Connect Learning™ with the latest digital content developed exclusively by VMware certified experts. ELS helps IT organizations and teams gain the knowledge, skills and validation for continued success, anytime, anywhere.

Many companies leveraging ELS within their teams begin with a Knowledge Skills Assessment (KSA) that provides actionable insights to address gaps in IT skills and optimize your VMware investments. It can provide individual learning paths that can be fulfilled through ELS.

The Enterprise Learning Subscription platform offers a video-driven user experience, creating an environment for exciting and engaging learning. With a new and simplified search and navigation engine you can quickly and easily find information by VMware product, skill level, groups or certification.

On Demand courses offer the same in-depth instruction and content as the instructor-led courses offered by VMware Learning and qualifying courses meet eligibility requirements for relevant certifications. With engaging recorded videos, these courses span every aspect of VMware technologies—from design to implementation.
Access to featured learning paths and On Demand content

Individual users can explore learning paths based on our full-length On Demand courses, which are equivalent to instructor-led offerings.

Interactive elements for your team

Encourage your team to get involved in community activities, such as polls, live webinars, forums and instructor hours.

Focused on your business outcomes

Your success starts on the first day of your subscription. One of our customer success experts will support new users through the onboarding process.

We will help:

• Pre-register all your designated team members
• Provide onboarding to help new users navigate Connect Learning
• Offer best practices and helpful tips for getting the most out of ELS

After your IT team members are onboarded, a live chat and community forums will be available to answer questions and help find the right level of content. Individualized learning paths that cater to participant skillsets and desired organizational objectives can also be recommended. We can also provide consumption metrics to your organization to demonstrate the subscription’s utilization across your team members.

Subscribe now

Subscribe today to take your skills to the next level.