Role-Based Learning Paths Resources and Support

As technology is outpacing the skilled workforce, companies are devoting resources to high-quality certification and training initiatives. Not only are certifications used to further one's career, but upskilling, reskilling and certifying from within can also allow an organization to retain valuable employees and experience benefits, such as heightened productivity, efficiency and increased engagement.

As you invest time in continuous learning and development, you enable your teams to navigate this evolving landscape with confidence and maximize the benefits of VMware Cloud Foundation.

Power of Upskilling and Reskilling

By upskilling and reskilling your team via continuous learning, you are proactively equipping your team with the skills and knowledge necessary to:

- Optimize VCF Adoption: Investing in upskilling ensures your team understands VMware Cloud Foundation in depth. The result is maximized efficiency, increased productivity, and faster ROI.
- Unlocking greater agility: Building VCF skills enable IT professionals to rapidly deploy, scale, and migrate workloads across hybrid and multi-cloud environments. Future-proof your workforce: VCF proficiency also empowers IT professionals to serve as experienced cloud advocates and drive proactive cloud adoption among various teams within their organization.

Measuring the Impact of Continuous Learning

The value of continuous learning and certification is backed by compelling evidence. According to the Workplace Learning & Development Trends - Research Report 2022:

- 76% of employees say they are more likely to stay with a company that offers continuous training.
- More than half of employees say they need more training

By prioritizing continuous learning, you will cultivate a culture of innovation and growth in your organization. IT professionals who are proficient in VCF can efficiently deploy, manage, and scale hybrid and multi-cloud environments simplifying operations, reducing complexity, and enabling around-the-clock adaptability.

On the next page we will introduce you to a powerful tool that empowers your teams continuous learning journey – VCF Learning Entitlements.
