VOICE OF THE CUSTOMER

“We used to take up to three or four days to [deliver] services, but now customers can provision them directly from the VMware Cloud Foundation Automation catalogue in about a half hour. That’s it. We have gone from days to minutes.”

Cloud administrator, oil and gas

“Over the past five years, I would like to say our system has had less than two hours of outages....And when we migrated VMware Cloud Foundation Automation onto our system, we experienced much better performance. There are no outages, and everything is planned and structured.”

IT architect, government
